Celebrating Your Love!

Congratulations on your engagement!

Your love is uniquely special...and to celebrate your love, an engagement session is Joanne's gift to you!

Joanne believes that the engagement session will help you feel more comfortable being photographed on your wedding day. It's a great way for Joanne to get to know you, and for you to see how Joanne guides her couples throughout the session.

The engagement session is all about the two of you and the special relationship you share. You and Joanne will plan to photograph at locations that are meaningful to you both, or you can rely on Joanne's artistic expertise to choose a setting that complements your personalities. Consider this time together to be like a fun date where you allow Joanne to tag along to capture the special and moments between you!

The result:

You'll be more comfortable being photographed on your wedding day, you'll receive posing tips from Joanne to help you look your best anytime you are photographed, you'll have access to great images to use for your guestbook, wedding decorations, gifts for special people and engagement announcements or save the date cards!

And, as another gift from Joanne...
...your favorite image will be enhanced and given to you as a high-resolution digital file to print and use as you'd like!

Thank you...

...for choosing Joanne as your photographer!

Just who am I anyway?

My love for photography began when I was a child watching events unfold and my father document them with his Brownie Camera - it was clear; photography was pure magic for me then, as it is now!

I've been photographing consistently since I was 18, and after achieving the pinnacle in my then 17-year social work career, I returned to school to obtain a degree in commercial photography and began photographing weddings while I was in my second year of Art School!

I interned with some of the top photographers in Pittsburgh, graduated with honors from AI International and opened Joanne Bartone Photography. It has been a joy photographing ever since.

My love for people, calm, easy-going nature, creative + technical expertise, strong work ethics and my fabulous clients have made my business successful and turned me into one of the most sought-after wedding photographers in Pittsburgh. I am so fortunate!

My creative approach focuses on documenting and telling your unique wedding story through my award-winning photography and through my signature wedding story designs. As I am photographing, I'm planning for your wedding story book...I'll skillfully capture the details, tears of joy and loving moments; I want you to live your moments and allow me to capture and create from them! I am acutely aware that after your last dance, your wedding photographs are one of the most important mementos from your entire day that you will be able to enjoy throughout your life together!

I have specialized in trust for nearly 20 years. My ability to caringly connect with my clients and their families have lead to my becoming their "photographer for life, not for just one day." I promise that I will produce beautiful imagery that comes straight from my heart, to you. Having me as your photographer will put your mind at ease, from start to finish, and that piece of mind is just one of the priceless benefits of choosing Joanne Bartone Photography.

Thank you for considering my services.

What my clients say:

"Joanne, you are truly amazing! You are the model from which all photographers should be made. Your photographs are beautiful, unique and artistic and you are the consummate professional. It was an absolute pleasure to have you with us on such an important day and I will always treasure the photographs you so skillfully captured and shaped into beautiful memories!"

Terms and Agreements

Consultations are available by appointment only.

Separate from and not counting towards your services and products, the Date Reservation Retainer (DRR) is meant solely to reserve the wedding date and Joanne's services.

This DRR will be deducted from the total cost of the service you purchase, is refundable after seven days of being remitted, but becomes non-refundable after seven days as other opportunities have been foregone.

Joanne limits her availability in order to provide her clients with the specialized attention, services and products they deserve.

A Preliminary then Final Wedding Agreement is required to insure both client and photographer agree to terms as outlined. Acceptance of the Preliminary Agreement binds all parties to the terms and conditions as defined here.

Services and goods must be paid for in full prior to any wedding day services being provided. The engagement service is a gift to clients from Joanne so is exempt from this term.

Services and product refunds are not offered after clients agree to the Preliminary Agreement, or after any photographic service has been provided. A Cancellation Policy is outlined in the Final Agreement to protect all parties.

Preferred Methods of Payment

Cash | PayPal | Money Order | Personal Check
Payment schedule is as follows:

- DRR reserves your date
- 1/2 balance due six months prior to the date
- Remaining balance due one month prior to the date

Products arrive after clients make selections based on their responsibility as outlined in the Final Wedding Agreement.
